

DEFINITION

According to 8 C.F.R. § 214.2(f)(7)(i) of the Code of Federal Regulations, "...An F-1 student who is currently maintaining status and making normal progress toward completing his or her educational objective, but who is unable to complete his or her course of study by the program end date on the Form I-20, must apply prior to the program end date for a program extension pursuant to paragraph (f)(7)(iii) of this section."

ELIGIBILITY

A student is eligible for a program extension under these circumstances:

- 1) The delay in program completion must be caused by "compelling academic or medical reasons, such as changes of major or research topics, unexpected research problems, or documented illnesses." [8 CFR § 214.2(f)(7)(iii)]
- 2) The extension must be approved by an international student adviser at the Office of Global Initiatives.
- 3) The delay in program completion cannot be caused by academic probation or suspension.

The student cannot under any circumstances receive a program extension if s/he applies after his or her I-20 program end date. If a student thinks s/he may not pass a class or have a high enough GPA to graduate, it is advisable to apply for a program extension just in case s/he cannot finish in time.

Students who fail to apply for extension in a timely manner will have to leave the U.S. or apply for reinstatement with USCIS in order to try to regain status.

APPLYING FOR AN EXTENSION

In order to apply for an extension, students must provide the following documentation to the international adviser at the Office of Global Initiatives:

- 1) Program Extension Form
- 2) International Student Financial Statement Form
- 3) Proof of financial capability (bank statements, scholarship letter, etc., to cover the costs for one year or half year)

Once these documents are received and reviewed you will receive a new extended I-20. Please allow up to 7 business days for processing.

All students requesting an I-20 extension must fill out this form.
