

Policy on Use and Storage of Devices known as “Hoverboards”

Due to safety concerns associated with "Hoverboards" that have been raised by the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) and the potential impact to the safety of our university community, New Jersey Institute of Technology has imposed a ban on use of these devices.

Effective Tuesday, January 19, 2016 and until further notice, “Hoverboards”, also known as self-balancing scooters and hands-free Segways will not be permitted to be operated or stored on campus or in any NJIT building.

Further, these devices have been added to the Residence hall prohibited items list effective January 19, meaning they may not be brought inside any residence hall, including the Greek Village.

Students are subject to sanctions under the University’s Code of Conduct if found to be in violation of this ban.

As you return to campus after the holiday season, remember that campus safety is a community responsibility. We thank you, in advance, for your cooperation. I am confident we can count on all of you to comply.
