Biography:

In the Summer of 1947, just one year after the Rutgers-Newark campus became part of Rutgers-The State University of New Jersey, the noted conductor and musicologist Alfred Mann was appointed to the faculty and charged with creating a music department. That same year Mann started a chorus which was the beginning of an unbroken, distinguished tradition of 70 years of choral singing on the Newark campus. Under the 30-plus year leadership of Dr.'s John Floreen and Susan McAdoo, the Chorus made eight international concert tours, performing in Germany, the Czech Republic, The Netherlands, France, England, Scotland, Wales, Italy and Spain and has produced six CD recordings. RUC has enjoyed the start of a new chapter with Conductor Dr. Brian P. Harlow, including several collaborative performances with local choral and instrumental ensembles. The Chorus’ ongoing mission of campus outreach has resulted in performances in over twenty-five communities in the five counties surrounding Newark, serving, in the words of the "Star-Ledger," as musical "prime ambassadors" of Rutgers Newark.

"Excellent intonation and flawless musical projection are distinguishing characteristics of the Rutgers Chorus...a group of exceptional singers" - Associazione Italiana Organisti de Chiesa (Cremona, Italy)
