Please be advised of the following:

2. Your new school cannot issue an I-20 until the release date is reached. (Note: The record will be available to the new school on the release date.)
3. Should your plans change, contact your NJIT international advisor BEFORE the release date.
4. If you are on Optional Practical Training after completion of studies, your work authorization automatically ends on the date your SEVIS record is released to your new school regardless of the dates indicated on the EAD (Employment Authorization Document) card. You will be in violation of F-1 status if you continue to work after the transfer release date.
