Introduction to NJIT

The Evolution of NJIT

The Newark Technical School Era: 1881-1919

In 1881, Newark was the ideal setting for a school that would contribute greatly to scientific, economic and social progress over the next 125 years. By 1881, the city’s rail and transportation resources were among the best in the nation. It also had a growing workforce energized by many thousands of immigrants who were contributing to the success of companies in an exceptionally wide range of industries. These industries manufactured leather, iron castings, jewelry, steam engines, clothing, furniture, clocks, precision instruments, chemicals, and much more. There were also the breweries for which Newark was noted.

A center of industrial innovation, Newark saw the invention of malleable iron and patent leather. Thomas Edison had a laboratory and workshop in Newark, on Ward Street. In one year alone, 1873, more than a hundred patents were issued to people living or doing business in Newark. By 1890, Newark ranked fourth in the nation with respect to the manufacture of chemicals. The number of manufacturing plants in Newark increased from about 750 in 1860 to some 1600 by the end of the 19th century, including nearly 30 companies manufacturing products for the new age of electricity.

In addition to raw materials and manufacturing facilities, Newark’s business leaders and other concerned citizens recognized that continuing prosperity depended on another key element — education. The city was already at the forefront of a national urban trend toward providing free public education at the elementary and high-school levels. Newark High School, the city’s first, was established in 1854. Several decades later, with virtually all industries demanding greater technological knowledge and skills, Newark Technical School was founded to meet this demand.

Dr. Charles A. Colton, the first director of Newark Technical School, welcomed the inaugural class of 88 Newark residents to a rented building on West Park Street. Although these young men had to pay for books and other supplies, tuition was free for those who lived in the city. One member of this class whose name would long be associated with the university was Frederick Eberhardt. According to contemporary newspaper accounts, Fred and his fellow students enjoyed the benefits of studying in a building illuminated by “36 incandescent electric lamps that the instructor could control as he pleased.” The courses available were in the disciplines of “Science, Mathematics, and Drawing.”

Fred Eberhardt went on to become the president of Gould and Eberhardt, a major Newark manufacturer of machine tools. He also served Newark Technical School and Newark College of Engineering as a trustee, his service spanning nearly four decades. Like the other students in his class, he was undoubtedly inspired by the words of Colton, who described the founding of institutions like Newark Technical School as “the outgrowth of the demands of an advanced civilization, valuable in proportion to the degree to which the graduates are able to apply their instruction to useful ends.”

In many respects, Colton was a man of vision who created the groundwork for a great 21st-century university. However, there were areas where his foresight was limited by less positive mores of his time. When asked in 1896 whether Newark Technical School’s new building would accommodate women, he is reported to have said:

“I would state that in planning the building it was expected that at some time women would be admitted to the school, and hence proper provision has been made for them. It has not been supposed that they would desire to pursue the same course of study as that arranged for men, and as yet there have been no indications as to what line of study women would desire to follow which the technological school can furnish.”

The following year, in 1897, Margaret Bryce did find a “line of study” that interested her. The first woman to enroll at Newark Technical School, Bryce was a high-school teacher who took the chemistry courses offered. And later in the school’s history, the first class to enroll as candidates for degrees in engineering included Mary Dodman, though the first woman to graduate was Edythe Rabbe. She was awarded a degree in chemical engineering in 1930.
Enrollment at Newark Technical School quickly grew to the point where larger facilities were needed. Funds raised among Newark’s civic and business leadership made it possible to lay the cornerstone for the school’s first dedicated building in 1886. This three-story structure rose at the intersection of High Street and Summit Place. It was subsequently named Weston Hall in honor of an early benefactor. A laboratory building later called Colton Hall was added to the campus in the first decade of the 20th century.

Newark College of Engineering: 1919-1975

The administration and faculty of Newark Technical School began to discuss offering degrees in engineering shortly after the turn of the 20th century, which was reflective of national trends in technological education. The term “engineer” appears for the first time in the minutes of the Board of Trustees in 1916, with approval subsequently given for introducing university-level courses in chemical and electrical engineering during the 1919-1920 academic year. On the basis of these developments, the State Board of Education recommended that Newark Technical School be given the authority to grant degrees under the name Newark College of Technology. The college awarded its first bachelor’s degrees in 1923 — a total of three in chemical engineering, three in electrical engineering, and four in mechanical engineering.

The first half of the 20th century was a period of great challenge as well as great achievement for the school. Headed by Allan Cullimore from 1920 to 1949, Newark College of Technology was renamed Newark College of Engineering in 1930. While the college’s course offerings and academic stature increased greatly during this period, physical expansion of the campus was limited to the 1925 opening of Campbell Hall and the 1948 acquisition of the Newark Orphan Asylum, now Eberhardt Hall—NJIT Alumni Center. Campbell Hall was named in honor of Peter Campbell, a former president of the Board of Trustees.

During these decades, Newark College of Engineering weathered two great national traumas — the Depression and World War II. The Depression sharpened the school’s focus on a key aspect of its educational mission that continues to be of paramount importance. In the 1930s, NCE clearly emerged as a “school of opportunity,” dedicated to giving talented young people access to higher education regardless of their economic circumstances. Greatly expanded during the Depression, the college’s co-op program made it possible for many students to earn the money needed to remain in school.

The scientific and technological knowledge that NCE students acquired in the 1930s and 1940s would prove crucial for the nation in World War II. Like virtually every institution in America, NCE went on a war footing when the country entered the war after December 7, 1941. Academic programs were accelerated so that as many young men as possible could complete their degrees before entering the armed forces. To remain in good academic standing, students had to spend their summers working in war industries. The college helped them to find such employment.

Special engineering courses for defense workers were also introduced. A college brochure listing the courses to be offered in the spring of 1942 stated that they are “designed to meet the shortage of engineers, production supervisors, chemists and physicists required by expanding war industries.” The brochure made a special appeal to women, urging them to contribute to the war effort in technical fields. There was no tuition for these special courses, and students paid only for books and lab fees.

After the end of World War II in 1945, the nation’s colleges and universities experienced an unprecedented increase in enrollment, and Newark College of Engineering was no exception. For veterans, the G.I. Bill opened the door to educational opportunities that the preceding generation could not have imagined. At the start of the 1949-1950 academic year, there were nearly 6000 students enrolled at NCE. Of these, more than half were veterans.

The increased enrollment at NCE sustained by the prosperity of the 1950s led to the construction of Cullimore Hall in 1958. Two years later, the old Weston Hall was demolished to make way for the seven-story structure now interconnected with New Jersey School of Architecture. Continuing physical expansion of the campus approved by the State of New Jersey in the second half of the decade led to the 1966 opening of several new buildings, including Tiernan Hall.
The next great wave of change for Newark College of Engineering came as the first members of the Baby Boom generation embarked on their college careers in the 1960s. It was another era of great social ferment. Many of our society’s institutions were reassessed in the light of new challenges. Completed in 1970, the first phase of a master plan for higher education in New Jersey set forth a slate of goals outlining an ambitious social mission of educational opportunity, campus diversity and community involvement.

NCE moved to develop programs to meet these goals and challenges under the guidance of presidents who included Robert Van Houten and William Hazell. Indicative of the school’s expanding academic scope, NCE awarded its first doctoral degree in 1964. Other academic highlights of the era included the formation of the Computer Science Department in 1969 and the founding of New Jersey School of Architecture in 1973.

It may be perpetrated by persons in or outside of the university community, including current or former employees, students, vendors, or a spouse or relative of an employee or student. Workplace violence may be committed by someone without any relationship to the victim. The violence may be a random act or actions which are premeditated and well-planned.

The following basic guidelines are designed to reduce the likelihood of workplace violence and provide information for all employees to use as methods of prevention and intervention of workplace violence.

Emergency Procedures

   Call the Department of Public Safety ext. 3111 or 973-596-3111.
   Get out of the area and away from the immediate threat.

b. Violence Committed

   Call the Department of Public Safety ext. 3111 or 973-596-3111 immediately if a person commits an act of violence against you or another person.

c. Intimidating Situation

Non-emergency Procedures

If you are not in immediate physical danger, but you have information or concerns regarding workplace violence, please contact your supervisor, the Department of Human Resources and the Department of Public Safety.
Section 2 - Operational Policies

2-1. Labor Management Relations
NJIT holds productive labor partnerships with seven different labor organizations representing various groups of employees. Representation by a labor organization is not an individual matter of choice for those occupying previously certified positions that are recognized within a specific labor organization. All incumbents in those positions will be represented unless and until decertification of the exclusive representative occurs. Since a certain amount of union dues is spent for political activity, employees have a choice as to whether they wish to be a “full” union member or only represented by the labor organization for negotiable terms and conditions of employment.

In general, each labor organization currently operating at NJIT represents the positions and the areas below. For a complete description of the titles represented by each labor organization, please consult the collective bargaining agreement for the unit or contact the Director of Labor/Employee Relations in the Department of Human Resources.

American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Council 52/AFL-CIO, (AFSCME): This unit represents craft, trade, maintenance and special services staff as well as certain non-supervisory technical staff.

Fraternal Order of Police (FOP): This unit represents commissioned police officers.

Superior Officers Association (SOA): This unit represents all commissioned police sergeants.

Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 93/Lieutenants (FOP/Lieutenants): This supervisory unit represents all commissioned police lieutenants.

Office Professional Employees International Union/AFL-CIO, Local 32 (OPEIU): This unit represents clerical, non-exempt administrative support, security and dispatch employees as well as computing services employees not represented by other bargaining units.

Professional Staff Association/American Association of University Professors, (PSA/AAUP): This unit represents full-time faculty and instructional staff as well as all non-supervisory professional staff.
United Council of Academics at NJIT, (UCAN): This unit represents graduate student assistants, (ex. teaching assistants, research assistants, etc.), and certain research employees, (ex. post-doctoral titles, research associate, etc.)

There are a number of employees who are not represented by a labor organization. This includes senior administrative staff, confidential employees, employees in the Department of Human Resources as well as part-time (generally fewer than twenty hours), and temporary employees. Confidential employees include employees who have legitimate access to confidential information regarding labor relations, information on budget developments, advance knowledge of collective bargaining proposals, or continually assist managerial employees in such matter. Questions about the interpretation and administration of the collective bargaining agreements may be directed to the Director, Labor/Employee Relations at 973-596-3142.

For a current copy of each union’s contract, please click here.

2-2. Employee Classifications and Compensation

The Department of Human Resources administers all policies associated with employee classification and compensation. HR is responsible for classifying new positions, administering all employee compensation programs, and analyzing salary programs and policies.

You may view the various policies as well as information regarding union salary schedules by clicking here.

Classification

The classification and reclassification of all positions in the university's position roster are subject to the Position Classification Policy and Procedure, which can be accessed by clicking here.

Compensation

The compensation policies of the university are guided by negotiated and/or established university compensation programs.

Salary Increases: The program methods and processes under which salary increases are awarded include performance based merit and/or cost of living adjustments. To obtain a current copy of the salary program and relevant salary range or matrix governing your salary, please contact the Department of Human Resources or refer to your collective bargaining agreement if your position is represented by organized labor.

2-3. Your Employment Records

Upon hire, you provided us with personal information, such as your address and telephone number. This information is contained in our employee database.

Please keep your personnel file up to date by informing the Department of Human Resources of any changes. You can change your address and contact information on Highlander Pipeline. Out-of-date contact information can cause delays in reaching the proper person in the event of an emergency, processing certain payroll documents, and in receiving important communications concerning your benefits. Also remember to report any changes in marital status and dependent information, since these can affect your withholding tax (notify the Payroll Department) and benefit coverage. All employees can access their personnel file by request.

2-4. Working Hours and Schedule

NJIT’s administrative offices are normally open for business from 8:30 am to 4:30 pm, Monday through Friday. You will be assigned a work schedule and you will be expected to begin and end work according to the assigned schedule. To accommodate the university’s business needs, individual work schedules can be changed by the university on either a short-term or long-term basis.

Rest periods are covered in the applicable collective bargaining agreement.

2-5. Overtime

Your supervisor is responsible for monitoring the need for and assigning overtime work when it is necessary. Efforts will be made to provide you with adequate advance notice in such situations.

Any non-exempt employee who works overtime will be compensated at the rate of one and one-half times (1.5) his/her normal hourly wage for all time worked in excess of forty (40) hours each week. Additionally, certain labor contracts may require overtime wages in addition to those required by the federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).

Non-exempt employees may work overtime only with prior management authorization.
For purposes of calculating overtime for non-exempt employees, the workweek begins at 12 a.m. on Sunday and ends 168 hours later at 11:59 p.m. on the following Saturday.

For further guidance and information concerning overtime law and regulation, please contact the Department of Human Resources.

2-6. Your Paycheck

You will be paid every two weeks for all the time you have worked during the past pay period. Hourly employees are paid on a lag of one pay period.

Your payroll stub itemizes deductions made from your gross earnings. By law, the university is required to make deductions for social security, federal income tax and any other appropriate taxes. These required deductions may also include any court-ordered garnishments. Your payroll stub will also differentiate between regular pay received and overtime pay received (if applicable).

You can view your payroll stub on the Highlander Pipeline by logging onto http://my.njit.edu and selecting the Faculty & Staff Services tab.

If you believe there is an error in your pay, bring the matter to the attention of the Department of Human Resources at 973-596-3140 immediately, so that the matter can be resolved quickly and amicably. The Payroll Department should be contacted if you have questions about withholdings or deductions in your paycheck.

2-7. Direct Deposit

NJIT employees are required to use direct deposit for their paychecks. Authorization forms are available in the Department of Human Resources or the Payroll Department.

2-8. Performance Reviews

The university recognizes that an employee’s growth and success in his/her job is important, and encourages employees and supervisors to discuss job performance on a frequent and ongoing basis.

Formal performance reviews are completed for employees on an annual basis in accordance with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement or as per the university’s Performance Management Program which can be found here.
For most employees, there is a connection between the employee’s performance evaluation and the amount of merit award the employee receives. Employees should check their individual collective bargaining agreement, if applicable, for specific details.

If you are a supervisor, more information can be found about performance review requirements on the HR website, under Supervisor’s Tool-Kit.

2-9. Record Retention

Record retention will be done in accordance with state and federal regulations. All questions regarding record retention should be addressed to the Office of General Counsel.

2-10. Job Postings/Promotions

All employment opportunities are posted on NJIT’s website, https://njit.jobs.

Interested applicants can create an application and apply through the online system. Paper resumes, faxes and emailed resumes are not accepted. If you do not have access to a computer, the Department of Human Resources has one available for use. Any questions regarding the online system can be directed to the Department of Human Resources at 973-596-3140.

Unless your collective bargaining agreement speaks about promotions, current personnel should refer to the university’s Internal Mobility Policy for information regarding opportunities; this policy can be found by clicking here.

Section 3 - Benefits

3-1. Benefits Overview

In addition to excellent working conditions and competitive pay, NJIT recognizes the importance of maintaining a comprehensive benefits program. The university offers a generous benefits package that includes health insurance, pension programs, life insurance, flexible spending accounts and access to university facilities and services. The benefits offered represent a significant part of your total compensation package.

If you have any questions regarding your benefits, please contact the Human Resources benefits department at extension 3140.
3-2. Holidays

Non-Aligned Employees

Full-time employees will be paid for the following holidays:

New Year's Day
Martin Luther King, Jr. Day
Good Friday
Memorial Day
Independence Day
Labor Day
Thanksgiving Day
Day after Thanksgiving
Christmas Day

When holidays fall on or are celebrated on a regular work day, eligible employees will be excused from reporting to work and receive that day as a paid holiday at their regular straight-time rate.

Represented Employees

Each collective bargaining agreement contains its own negotiated rules pertaining to paid Holidays, and holidays may differ according to the collective bargaining agreement.

3-3. Vacations

We know how hard you work and recognize the importance of providing you with time for rest and relaxation. We fully encourage you to get this rest by taking your vacation time.

Every effort will be made to grant your vacation preference, consistent with our operating schedule and subject to the university’s business needs. However, if too many people request the same period of time off, or there is a legitimate business need for coverage, the university reserves the right to deny vacation or choose who may take vacation during that period. Individuals with the longest length of service generally will be given preference. Vacation requests should be submitted to your manager at least 2 weeks in advance of your requested vacation dates.

Non-aligned employees
Refer to the university's Non-Aligned Vacation Policy, available online by clicking here.

Represented Employees

Refer to your collective bargaining agreement for further information concerning vacation leave benefits.

3-4. Sick Leave

Non-aligned employees

Paid sick leave accrues at a rate of 4.04 hours per pay check (15 days per year). Sick leave accumulates throughout your NJIT employment, with no cap. Unused sick leave is not paid out upon separation from university employment, with the sole exception that non-faculty employees who have filed for retirement with the State of New Jersey may receive one-half the value of their accumulated but unused sick leave up to a maximum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00).

If you will be out of work due to illness, you must call in and/or notify your supervisor no later than the normal beginning of your shift.

Represented Employees

Refer to your collective bargaining agreement for further information concerning paid sick leave.

If you will be out of work due to illness, you must call in and notify your supervisor in accordance with the parameters set forth in your collective bargaining agreement.

3-5. Lactation Breaks

The university will provide a reasonable amount of break time to accommodate an employee desiring to express breast milk for the employee's infant child, in accordance with and to the extent required by applicable law. The break time, if possible, should run concurrently with rest and meal periods already provided to the employee. The university has a Lactation Lounge on the fourth floor of Fenster Hall, Room 427. See the Department of Human Resources for access to the Lactation Lounge.

3-6. Personal/Administrative Days

Non-aligned employees
Full time employees receive three (3) personal/administrative days per year. Request for administrative leave must be requested and approved in advance, except in the case of emergencies, and will not be arbitrarily denied. Such leave may be used for religious observance or days of celebration, personal affairs, or emergencies.

If these days are not used by the end of the fiscal year, they are forfeited. Personal days do not accrue.

Represented Employees

Refer to your collective bargaining agreement for further information concerning personal time.

3-7. Bereavement Days

Non-aligned employees

Employees may use personal days or vacation days for this purpose.

Represented Employees

Refer to your collective bargaining agreement for further information concerning bereavement leave.

3-8. State Health Benefits Program

Health plans are governed by the rules and regulations of the New Jersey State Health Benefits Program.

There is a deductible to satisfy for some services and some services are eligible only up to a limited amount. The annual plan deductible is $50 per person/$100 per family in-network and $75 per person/$150 per family out-of-network. The deductible does not apply to diagnostic, preventive, and orthodontic services. After you satisfy the annual deductible, you are reimbursed a percentage of the reasonable and customary charges or PPO contracted allowance for services that are covered under the plan.
Dental Plan Organizations (DPOs)

DPOs work like the HMOs in the health program. You must use the provider you select in the DPO to receive coverage. When you use a DPO dentist, most dental care is covered in full. There are no claim forms to file or deductibles.

Flexible Spending Accounts AKA Tax$Ave:

An Flexible Spending Account (FSA) is an account you set up to pre-fund your anticipated, eligible medical services and supplies and dependent care expenses that are normally not covered by your insurance. You can choose from Unreimbursed Medical Expense FSA, Dependent Care FSA, or have one of each. With either FSA, you benefit from having less taxable income in each of your paychecks, which means more spendable income to use toward your eligible medical and dependent care expenses.

What is an Unreimbursed Medical FSA?

An Unreimbursed Medical FSA is used to pay for eligible medical expenses which aren’t covered by your insurance or other plan.

These expenses can be incurred by yourself, your spouse, or a qualifying child or relative. Your full annual contribution amount is available at the beginning of the plan year, so you don’t have to wait for the money to accumulate.

The Dependent Care FSA is a great way to pay for eligible dependent care expenses such as after school care, baby-sitting fees, daycare services, and nursery and preschool. Eligible dependents include your qualifying child, spouse, and/or relative.

Annual Contribution Limits:

For Medical Expense FSA:
Minimum Annual Deposit: $100
Maximum Annual Deposit: $2,500

For Dependent Care FSA:
Minimum Annual Deposit: $250

• The maximum contribution depends on your tax filing status:
  If you are married and filing separately, your maximum annual deposit is $2,500.

• If you are single and head of household or married and filing jointly, your maximum annual deposit is $5,000.

• If either you or your spouse earns less than $5,000 a year, your maximum annual deposit is equal to the lower of the two incomes.

• If your spouse is a full-time student or incapable of self-care, your maximum annual deposit is $3,000 a year for one dependent and $5,000 a year for two or more dependents.

How to Enroll:
- Complete an Enrollment form and fax it to WageWorks at 866-672-4780 (https://www.wageworks.com/) or
- Visit www.wageworks.com and select “Login/Register.” You’ll need to verify your employee status, confirm your contact information, and create a username and password.

- New employees who enroll in the Unreimbursed Medical Spending Account may file claims beginning the first of the month after an initial 60-day waiting period
- New employees who enroll in the Dependent Care Spending Account may file claims beginning the first of the month after an initial 30-day waiting period

The Open Enrollment Period for the Flexible Spending Account is October through November 1. All changes made during the month of October become effective January 1.

3-9. Workers' Compensation

Workers’ Compensation covers medical expense and losses, and lost time due to job related injuries and illnesses. Coverage is automatic and immediate. There is no qualifying period; no need to earn a certain amount in wages before you are covered, protection begins the first day that you are on the job. All bills for work injuries and illnesses will be paid directly by the claims administrator.

If you are injured on the job, report the incident immediately to your Supervisor and the Department of Human Resources within 24 hours. Failure to follow university procedures may affect your ability to receive Workers Compensation benefits.

This is solely a monetary benefit and not a leave of absence entitlement. Employees who are authorized to be out of work by the Workers Compensation doctor will be paid 100% of their salary with 30% of the absence charged to their sick leave. If an employee does not have adequate sick leave, they will be paid 70% of salary, with no debiting of their sick leave bank.

Workers’ Compensation fraud is a felony. Anyone who makes or causes to be made any knowingly false or fraudulent statement for the purpose of obtaining benefits or payments is guilty of a felony.

3-10. Jury Duty Leave

You also are expected to keep management informed of the expected length of your jury duty service and to report to work for the major portion of the day if you are excused by the court.

Employees on jury duty leave will be paid their NJIT salary for their jury duty service. Employees must surrender any pay received for Jury Duty to the Department of Human Resources. Please consult your collective bargaining unit agreement for further information.

3-11. Statutory Short-Term Disability

Under the NJ Temporary Disability Benefits Law, State administered compensation is payable when an individual cannot work because of sickness or injury NOT caused by the job.

This is solely a monetary benefit and not a leave of absence. Employees who will be out of work must also request a formal leave of absence, and their sick leave banks will be charged for absences as a result of such disability, which may also qualify as Family or Medical Leave. 3-15. Retirement Plans

Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS)

Plan Overview

- Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS) is a defined benefit plan where retirement benefits are based on age, salary & years of service credit. Employees contribute a percentage of their base salary to the plan. Any employee with an “F” or “J” visa is not eligible to participate in PERS. Legislation enacted between 2007 and 2011 calls for eligibility for PERS enrollment to be based in part on the PERS "Membership Tiers" outlined below:

- Tier 1 Membership, for members who were enrolled prior to July 1, 2007 annual salary of $1,500 or more

- Tier 2 Membership, for members who were eligible to enroll on or after July 1, 2007 and prior to November 2, 2008, annual salary of $1,500 or more.

- Tier 3 Membership, for members eligible to enroll on or after November 2, 2008 and on or before May 21, 2010. Minimum salary set for the current calendar year, subject to future adjustments.

- Tier 4 Membership, for members eligible to enroll after May 21, 2010 but before June 28, 2011. Minimum 35 hours per week required for enrollment.

- Tier 5 Membership, for members eligible to enroll on or after June 28, 2011. Minimum 35 hours per week required for enrollment.

In addition, an employee must be enrolled in the PERS if:

1. The employee's wages are subject to Social Security taxes;
2. The employee is not required to be a member of any other State or local government retirement system on the basis of the same position;

3. The employee is receiving a monthly retirement allowance from the PERS and is also working more than the minimum number of hours per week required for PERS Tier 4 enrollment and earning more than $15,000 annually, in aggregate, from all PERS-covered employment (see “Exceptions” and "Special Rules for Disability Retirees Restored to Active Service").

4. The employee is in a permanent position or has had 12 months of continuous temporary or provisional service.

Employees are fully vested following the completion of 10 years of service.

PERS Ineligibility

1. Persons who are retired from a NJ State-administered retirement system other than the PERS (e.g., TPAF), or from a local New Jersey retirement system, are not eligible for PERS enrollment, but may assume a PERS-covered position and receive the full salary without consequence to any existing retirement allowance.

2. Employees who are eligible for Tier 1 or Tier 2 membership based on date of enrollment but do not earn at least $1,500 annually.

3. Employees who are eligible for Tier 3 membership based on date of enrollment but whose salary does not meet or exceed the minimum salary set for Tier 3 enrollment for the current calendar year.

4. Employees who qualify for Tier 4 or Tier 5 enrollment in all respects but do not work the minimum number of hours required for PERS Tier 4 or Tier 5 membership.

5. Retired PERS members who return to public employment and earn $15,000 or less per year from all PERS-covered employment are ineligible for PERS enrollment.

6. PERS disability retirees who have been approved to return to PERS-covered employment but do not earn the minimum annual salary for enrollment under their original PERS membership tier.

7. Employees whose positions are not covered by Social Security.

8. Certain students employed at the school, college or university in which they are enrolled and regularly attend classes may be ineligible for PERS membership, effective June 30, 2000. Federal and State legislation excludes many of these students from FICA and Medicare taxes. Since PERS membership is dependent on wages being subject to Social Security withholding, these student employees are not eligible.

9. Provisional or temporary employees covered by Civil Service with less than 12 months of continuous service.

Supplemental Annuity Collective Trust (SACT)

The Supplemental Annuity Collective Trust of New Jersey (SACT) is a voluntary investment program that provides retirement income separate from, and in addition to, your basic pension plan. Your contributions are invested conservatively in the stock market. The program consists of two separate plans, the SACT-Regular Plan and the SACT-Tax-Sheltered Plan (IRC Section 403(b)).

Under the Regular Plan, your contributions are taken from salary that has been subject to federal income tax. When funds are withdrawn at retirement or separation of service, the contributions are not subject to federal income tax, but the earnings on those contributions are taxable.

Under the Tax-Sheltered Plan you enter into a salary reduction agreement with your employer, so that the salary your employer reports to the Internal Revenue Service is reduced by the amount of your contributions. When the funds are withdrawn at retirement or separation, the contributions and earnings are subject to federal taxation as ordinary income. New Jersey Gross Income Tax and Social Security do not afford similar tax-sheltered benefits and those taxes must be paid on gross salary during participation in SACT.

Eligibility for SACT-Regular Plan you must be an actively contributing member:

PERS - Public Employees' Retirement System

PFRS - Police and Firemen's Retirement System

Eligibility for the SACT-Tax-Sheltered Plan also requires membership in a State-administered retirement system. In addition, you must be employed by a public educational institution.
NJ State Employees' Deferred Compensation Plan

The New Jersey State Employees Deferred Compensation Plan (NJSEDCP) provides you, as an eligible state employee, an opportunity to voluntarily shelter a portion of your wages from federal income taxes while saving for retirement to supplement your Social Security and pension benefits.

Section 4 - Leaves of Absence

4-1. Unpaid/Extraordinary Leave

As the name indicates, this leave is not a scheduled or programmed benefit but a leave provided at the discretion of NJIT under truly extraordinary circumstances. Employees who do not meet the qualification of any other leave will need to apply for an Extraordinary/Unpaid Leave. Terms of such leave are individualized. Please consult your collective bargaining unit agreement or contact the Department of Human Resources with any questions or concerns for eligibility.

4-2. Military Leave

If you are called into active military service or you enlist in the uniformed services, you will be eligible to receive an unpaid military leave of absence. To be eligible for military leave, you must provide management with advance notice of your service obligations unless you are prevented from providing such notice by military necessity or it is otherwise impossible or unreasonable for you to provide such notice. Provided your absence does not exceed applicable statutory limitations, you will retain reemployment rights and accrue seniority and benefits in accordance with applicable federal and state laws. Please ask Human Resources for further information about your eligibility for Military Leave.

If you are required to attend yearly Reserves or National Guard duty, you can apply for an unpaid temporary military leave of absence not to exceed the number of days allowed by law (including travel). You should give management as much advance notice of your need for military leave as possible so that we can maintain proper coverage while you are away.

4-3. Family and Medical Leave

Employees may be entitled to a leave of absence under the University Family and Medical Leave Policy which incorporates both State and Federal Family Leave provisions. NJIT’s Family Leave Policy is available on the NJIT policy page. To view or download the policy please click here.
The Family Medical Leave Policy provides the following job protected leave benefits to eligible employees:
- Up to 12 work weeks of unpaid leave for an enabling event
- Ability to maintain existing medical benefits

SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY & PROCEDURES

- POLICY -

Policy Statement:

Sexual Harassment is a form of gender-based discrimination which violates federal and State law as well as New Jersey Institute of Technology's (hereinafter "university") policy prohibiting discrimination on the basis of gender. It is forbidden by the university and it is inexcusable regardless of circumstances. Transgressions and supervisory condonation of such transgressions will result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination. This Policy applies to faculty, staff and university officers equally as described below. Further, its mandate shall, to the extent contractually feasible, be applied fully to contractually affiliated entities at the university.

Proscribed Conduct:

There are currently two (2) distinctly recognizable and forbidden forms of sexual harassment, both of which constitute conduct that may result in termination.

1. Quid Pro Quo Harassment: This harassment is an intentional, intolerable exploitation of a position of power and authority such as unwelcome sexual advances, requests or demands for sexually based favors or other gender based verbal or physical conduct where submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used, by the person(s) in a position of power or authority, as a basis for employment, academic or institutional environment decisions affecting such individual.

2. Hostile Environment Harassment: This harassment arises where one or more members of the university community engage in gender based conduct that unreasonably creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working and/or study environment that has the effect of altering one's work and the conditions of employment at the university. It may arise independent of the supervisor/subordinate and the conduct need not be overtly sexual in nature but merely gender differentiating. As a general guiding principal established herein, harassment and sexual misconduct of such complaints under Title IX are addressed in a separate policy. No gender based actions that are not specifically and officially endorsed by the university (e.g.; separate rest room facilities) are authorized or condoned. Currently, as established under controlling case law interpretation of both state and federal laws, hostile environment sexual harassment consists of conduct that; (1) would not have occurred but for the victim's gender and (2) is sufficiently severe or pervasive as (3) adjudged by a reasonable person (of the same gender as the victim under New Jersey law) to (4) create a hostile, intimidating, abusive or offensive working environment, adversely affecting a victim's work or other conditions of employment. The university will continue to provide education and training to faculty, and staff on identifying illegal and intolerable conduct rising to the level of sexual harassment.

Enforcement:

The university will fully investigate all charges of sexual harassment filed in writing with the intake office designated in this Policy and render a deliberative finding, taking immediate corrective action in cases where the record warrants university action. Individuals found to have engaged in such misconduct shall be accordingly disciplined. This misconduct is grave on its face and may result in termination. Supervisory personnel who witness what they believe is harassing conduct of subordinates or colleagues or are in receipt of formal or informal allegations of such conduct are obligated to report such conduct to the university through the procedures detailed below. All employees who witness or have tangible evidence of potentially harassing conduct are responsible to cooperate fully and honestly with the university in its investigation of such alleged conduct. Failure to do so impedes the university's search for facts necessary for appropriate determination and, in itself, may lead to discipline. Employees who fully, honestly and forthrightly cooperate with the university in its investigation and the enforcement of this Policy shall be deemed to be operating within the scope of employment as set out in the university's indemnification policy.

Education and Training:

As a necessary, proactive measure of policy integrity and enforcement, the university provides mandatory education and training for members of the university community to ensure understanding and appreciation of the policy, the laws as amended and re-interpreted from time-to-time, which serve as a basis for this Policy and its proscriptive measures, and the Procedures. This education and training will be coordinated through the university's Office of Human Resources and provided by or through formally designated members of the university community with knowledge of the laws and this Policy's parameters. Information regarding provision of university education and training on sexual harassment as well as information and guidance as to this Policy and its procedures may be obtained from the Office of Human Resources. Specific questions relative to the law of sexual harassment, should be directed to the university's Office of General Counsel. Additionally, guidelines as to policy application may be found on the Office of Human Resources webpage (site or address of link).

Confidentiality:

While all reasonable efforts will be made to respect the confidentiality of all parties associated with evidence of sexual harassment charge(s), the university is obligated to address fully all charges of such conduct and cannot guarantee total confidentiality. A thorough investigation, including discussing witnesses' accounts and confronting the accused will often transpire. A charge of sexual harassment is most serious, cannot and will not be taken lightly, and cannot and will not be "off the record".

Retaliation:

Retaliatory action under any and all circumstances taken against an individual who files a complaint of sexual harassment honestly and in good faith, or who is cooperating with the university's investigation into such allegation, is prohibited and may result in termination

Malicious Allegations/Actions:

False charges of sexual harassment made knowingly or with wanton reckless disregard for the truth and veracity of the charge, shall be considered malicious charges and are not within the scope of anyone's employment. The University reserves the right to impose sanctions against the accuser. Repeated filing of frivolous charges will be considered reckless disregard for the truth and veracity of such charges. Neither failure to substantiate a sexual harassment charge nor a university finding that sexual harassment did not occur, in and of itself constitutes malicious charge(s).

Election of Remedies:

Neither this Policy nor its associated Procedures preclude the accuser from filing charges with any extremal agency or otherwise seeking redress pursuant to law. At such time, or at any stage of the process, the agency charges will be handled directly by the university's Office of General Counsel, but shall otherwise continue to operate though to resolution as set out under “PROCEDURES” below.

- PROCEDURES -

The university's sexual harassment policy must be adhered to by all members of the university community. Any employee who honestly feels subjected to or has witnessed sexual harassment, as outlined in the policy and elaborated upon in educational sessions provided by the university, should immediately report the conduct to the university designated intake agent(s) as follows:

1. Employees report the conduct to the Office of Human Resources.

2. Should the allegations involve personnel in the Offices of Human Resources, the matter shall be reported to Office of General Counsel.

Immediately upon receiving notification of conduct alleged to be gender based harassment, the Office identified above, as the initial intake agent of the university, shall notify the Office of General Counsel and commence investigation of the alleged conduct, maintaining confidences to the extent practicable.

Step 1 - Intervention:

This process is prerequisite to formal hearing and the recording of the University's official investigative findings of whether or not sexual harassment has occurred and/or whether a malicious claim has been filed. It provides no specific sanctions but addresses each matter individually, as confidentially as practicable, and seeks formal resolution by written agreement of all parties to the conduct alleged by the accuser, to be gender based, harassing, unwelcome and intolerable.

The intervention process shall include the following:

1. Interview, by an intake agent, of the accuser and creation of a separate formal record to be maintained in the intake office with final copy, following failed or successful resolution of the intervention, to the Office of General Counsel.

The intervention may include the following:

1. Interview, by an intake agent, of the accused, setting forth the allegations and making a record of the response, complete with specific information as to rebuttal witnesses and other information offered that is conducive to resolution.

2. Discussion with both accuser and accused of formal resolution to which each would agree in writing before involving testimony and evidentiary practices that may erode the confidentiality of the complaint and the parties.

3. If both parties are amenable to formal resolution at the intervention step as proposed by the university through its intake agent(s), a formal agreement will be prepared after consultation and debriefing with the intake agent, provided to accuser and accused for signing and then implemented according to its terms.

Time Limits:

From receipt of accusation to intervention resolution, a period of thirty (30) calendar days is the time limit for Step I intervention upon all parties to the allegation. The time limit may be extended by formal agreement of the accuser and the university. Where the accused has been properly joined at the intervention step, extension of time limits need also require the accuser's agreement. Absent resolution or mutual agreement to extend the time limit, the allegation will be forwarded to Step 2 of the procedure.

Step 2-Fact Finding:

Unless the accuser expressly wishes to withdraw the allegations, Step 2 shall be convened and shall precede, either (1) thirty (30) days failing formal resolution at Step I or (2) immediately, if the accuser does not wish to proceed at Step I, but wishes to commence a formal investigation.

1. The record established at Step 1 shall be forwarded to the designee (Factfinder) of the President who shall be from among the members of the Office of Human Resources.

2. From inception of Step 2 through formal finding by the Factfinder, not more than sixty (60) calendar days shall elapse absent special circumstances and in no event shall more than ninety (90) days elapse, except by consent of the parties.

3. The Factfinder shall review the record established at Step I and investigate the allegation(s) further as warranted. This investigation, as illustrative of the search for credible facts, would include:

   a. re-examination of the accuser and/or accused as warranted;
   b. discussion with and testimony by witnesses; and
   c. gathering of credible non-testimonial evidence corroborating or rebutting the allegation(s), response and testimonial evidence.

While good faith effort at maintaining circumspect publication and disclosure of allegations, corroboration, rebuttal and the personnel involved will be the order of this Policy and Procedure; confidentiality cannot be promised to the extent it impedes credible resolution of the allegations.

4. At the conclusion of the fact finding process, the designee shall determine either:
a. There is no cause for a finding of sexual harassment.

OR

b. There is cause, based on the facts found and without further deliberation to find sexual harassment.

AND / OR

c. There has been a malicious filing of sexual harassment complaint.

The Factfinder's determination, with the substantiating basis, shall be set out in writing and forwarded to the President of the university with official, sealed copy to the accuser, the accused, the university's General Counsel, Vice President for Human Resources and the Vice President(s) of the accused and the accuser.

Step 3 - Sanctions:

Should there be a finding of sexual harassment or malicious filing of such charge(s) following Step 2 or Step 2A herein, the matter will be referred to the Vice President of Human Resources who, following consultation with the appropriate university officers, will provide counsel and professional services as to appropriate sanction(s) and the implementation thereof. Sanctions may include, by way of illustration but not limitation, termination or expulsion, suspension, probation, reprimand, warning, directed counseling and/or mandatory education and training.

Step 4 - Grievance:

Appeal of a finding accompanied by disciplinary sanctions (as set out in step 3 above), shall be referred to the university's standing policies for handling employee grievances.

Withdrawal of Allegations(s):

If the accuser determines to withdraw the allegation(s) of sexual harassment at any time during any step in the procedure, the withdrawal must be in writing and specify voluntary retraction of the complaint. This action will not necessarily preclude further investigation, findings or sanctions as imposed by the university.
