NJIT TAB Participates in Hot Brownfields Topics Workshop Birmingham, AL

In partnership with USEPA Region 4 and the Alabama Department of Environmental Management (ADEM), NJIT TAB participated in the Hot Topics Brownfield Workshop. This workshop was part of 2018 Southeast Brownfields Conference and was held on September 26, 2018.

Approximately 30 people attended the workshop, including many local government staff, community development staff, economic development officers, and nonprofit staff throughout EPA Region 4.

As part of the Hot Brownfields Topics Workshop, NJIT TAB partnered with USEPA Region 4 to present an expert's guide for preparing successful multipurpose, assessment, and cleanup (MAC) brownfield grant proposals. NJIT presented tips on how to write a winning grant proposal. The presentation included: proposal writing resources; a presentation of a grant proposal to-do list; steps that potential applicants could presently be undertaking to position themselves for success; and, helpful tips and tricks for winning grant proposals.

In addition, attendees were provided with an update of the Brownfield Utilization, Investment and Local Development Act (BUILD) changes that will be implemented in FY 2019.
