NJIT TAB Leads Brownfield Grant Writing Workshop in Providence, RI

At the request of the Rhode Island Department of Environmental Management (RIDEM), NJIT TAB developed and presented An Expert's Guide for Preparing Successful Multipurpose, Assessment, and Cleanup (MAC) Brownfield Grant Proposals Workshop, which was held on November 15, 2018, in Providence RI.

Approximately 25 people attended the workshop, including state and local government staff, nonprofit staff, and environmental consultants from Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and Connecticut.

The presentation included: proposal writing resources; a presentation of a grant proposal to-do list; steps that potential applicants could presently be undertaking to position themselves for success and helpful tips and tricks for winning grant proposals.

Attendees were also provided with an update of the Brownfield Utilization, Investment and Local Development Act (BUILD) changes which will be implemented in FY 2019.

In addition, Kelly Owens, of RIDEM provided an overview of RIDEM programs.
