Advice for Others Planning a Brownfields Cleanup

- ❖ Attend conferences and meetings as often as you can.
- ❖ Share your story. Be clear on your goals and your needs.
- ❖ Be as inclusive with your community as possible. They know best what is needed for their neighborhood.
- ❖ Find the leaders in the community and consult with them regularly.
- ❖ Build a strong Board/Committee, with skills like accounting, architecture, construction, and contracts.
- ❖ Consider breaking your project into manageable pieces.
- ❖ Your contractors are your best tools. Consider how their expertise can supplement your own skills & experiences.
- ❖ Stay organized. There is a lot of paperwork involved. Keep all of it and keep it organized.
- ❖ You can do this!
