NJIT TAB Provides Organizational and Facilitation Services for CT Brownfields Conference

NJIT TAB assisted the Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development (CT DECD) and the Connecticut Department of Energy & Environmental Protection (CT DEEP) with organizing and facilitating the inaugural Connecticut Brownfields Conference held

Connecticut. The conference brought together 400 federal, state and local officials, developers, property owners, consultants, and attorneys to forge partnerships and encourage closer collaboration for brownfield redevelopment. The event also provided an opportunity for attendees to hear great examples of success stories that we hope will inspire the next great brownfield redevelopment project.

Because of NJIT TAB's experience and expertise in organizing conferences, CT DECD and CT DEEP requested NJIT TAB's assistance in planning the event. In addition to spearheading the event's planning activities, NJIT TAB also managed registrations, promoted the event, sent reminders, provided facilitation services for the event, prepared name tags, and assisted with "day of" logistics.

"NJIT was an outstanding partner to CT DECD and CT DEEP in organizing and promoting the 2016 Connecticut Brownfields Conference, which brought together developers, municipal leaders, environmental professionals and attorneys to celebrate Connecticut's momentum in brownfield remediation and discuss new opportunities for sustainable brownfield redevelopment. Elizabeth Limbrick and the NJIT Team were fantastic to work with and we look forward to continuing this partnership going forward." Tim Sullivan, CT DECD Deputy Commissioner.
