NJIT TAB gets Virginia EPA brownfields grant applicants off to a strong start!

At the request of the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality (VADEQ), NJIT TAB developed, planned, and hosted an EPA FY2021 brownfields grant writing virtual workshop titled "Mining for Grant Gold - Tips and Tricks for EPA Grant Success" for Virginia communities. This virtual workshop provided participants with an overview of the available FY2021 EPA brownfields grants and associated solicitation timeline, presented by EPA Region 3 staff; and numerous tips and strategies on writing a successful grant application (including successful section examples), highlights of guideline changes for this year's solicitation, and additional grant writing resources available to applicants, presented by NJIT TAB.

NJIT TAB created a save the date flyer for this event, developed and compiled presentation materials, provided the Webex platform, managed event registrations, and served as an expert speaker on grant writing. The virtual workshop was held August 26, 2020 and was attended by approximately 31 participants representing local, county, state, tribal and regional government entities, non-profits as well as consultants.
